50 Local Families Have Kin Who Are Civilian Internees

There are 50 families of prisoners of war and civilian internees listed in the files of the Redwood City Chapter of the American Red Cross. Service that is given in the prisoner of war department of the chapter consists of sending cables for the families to prisoners, sending special letters to the Philippines, providing cartons for prisoner of war packages to Germany and supplying stationery for POW mail to German and Japanese held prisoners, explains Mrs. William Baxter of the local unit.

Families have been assisted with the packing of POW boxes and have been kept informed on all new information pertaining to prisoners.

Many standard Red Cross food packages have been sent by next-of-kin having the proper labels from the provost marshal's office, to prisoners of war other than United States, who are held by Germany. Over $200 has been received in contributions for the general POW relief.

Another important service maintained by the Redwood City Chapter is that of Inquiries and Messages. This service is sending inquiries concerning and to civilians in German and Japanese held territory and countries not open to regular mail service, by families and friends in this country. Four hundred and eighty-seven of these messages and inquiries have been sent or received during the past year from all parts of the world: China, Japan, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Czecho-Slovakia, Finland, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands. In the past few months, parts of Italy, France, Holland, Greece and the Philippines and all of Belgium and Switzerland have been opened to limited mail service and message senders have been notified of this change. This Red Cross message service is the only means of communication that people in this country have with their families and friends in occupied countries.

The following packages are shipped, packed and distributed to American POW and civilian internees by the American Red Cross, the cost being met by the U.S. government:

1. Standard food package. Weighs 11 pounds. Is distributed to prisoners once a week and contains vitamins, canned meat, fish, cheese, margarine, milk powder, cigarets, soap, etc.

2. Standard invalid package. Also weighs 11 pounds and is distributed to POW and civilian internees in hospitals and to convalescents.

3. Infant food package for infants, from four months old to four years, of civilian internees. One is distributed to each child per week.

4. Clothing packages. The American Red Cross itself supplies the following out of its own funds:

1. One special Christmas food box for each POW.

2. Capture parcel which is given to each American POW when he is taken captive and contains underwear and toilet articles.

3. Garden seed package which contains enough seed to plant one-eighth acre and supply 20 men with vegetables.

4. Medical, dental and optical supplies.

5. Cook book.

After teeth are fully formed, their health is not affected by any articles of diet except starches and sugars.

New Ceiling Laws For Woman Aides

Although War Manpower Commission employment ceilings on female workers in any type of employment have been abolished, effective Monday, WMC specific referral regulations remain in effect for women, Sam Kagel, state manpower director, Northern California, announced today.

"Every woman seeking employment must have a statement of availability and a specific referral from an authorized referral agency if she was last employed in essential or locally needed activity," Kagel explained.

Kagel added that female workers under the change in War Manpower Commission regulations fall into two categories and may be hired with the following procedure:

First, all women in clerical occupations now or last employed in an essential or locally needed activity may be referred only to clerical employment in an essential or locally needed activity:

Second, women other than clerical who were last employed in essential or locally needed activity may, after receiving the proper certificate of availability from that employment, be referred by an authorized referral agency to other than essential activity, provided there is no job opening in essential or locally needed activity for which they can qualify.

Still Hospitalized By Jan. 1 Crash

Mrs. Catherine Eason of Redwood City will be confined to the DeWitt General Hospital for another three months with two fractured legs received in the New Year's Day train crash at Ogden, Utah, her mother, Mrs. William B. Hollenbeck, 1601 Oxford St., reported today.

Mrs. Eason, who was returning from her honeymoon with her sergeant husband, has been in the hospital since Jan. 2. She will probably not be able to walk for a year, her mother said.

Sergeant Eason, an overseas veteran, received a broken ankle in the wreck which killed 50 persons. He recently spent the weekend with his wife's parents. The sergeant reports that 15 persons injured in the train tragedy are still at the DeWitt hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck are planning to visit their daughter on Easter Sunday.

Councilmen Win Round 1 In S.M. Feud

City Atty. Ernest Wilson and City Councilman Carrol M. Speers of San Mateo, whose ousters are being sought on charges that they had business relationships with the municipality, won the first round of their legal battle Monday, when Judge Andrew R. Schottky, of Mariposa County sustained their demurrers and strongly indicated that improper procedure was being used in the effort to oust the pair.

Judge Schottky, sitting in packed justice of the peace chambers here, sustained demurrers to both complaints filed by Charles H. Peterson, former city auditor of San Mateo. Peterson filed writs of mandate for removal of Wilson and Speers in superior court last Tuesday.

An effort by counsel for Wilson and Speers to have the case brought to a head before next Tuesday's city election failed, however, when Judge Schottky granted Peterson and his attorney 10 days to file an amended complaint. Melvin Belli represented Peterson. Speers was represented by Arthur J. Harzfeld and Wilson was represented by Harzfeld and by himself.

Judge Schottky questioned points of authority whereby the city council could expel a member of the council. Peterson had complained that majority members of the council had failed to expel Speers.

"Unless you can present to the court some definite authorities that mandamus is the proper form of action, I am strongly of the opinion that this is not such a case," Judge Schottky declared.

"Frankly, I am very seriously in doubt," Judge Schottky said. "I don't think that you can amend the complaint so as to state a cause of action for a writ of mandate, but I am willing to give you the opportunity to do so."

The 10 days which the judge allowed Peterson to file an amended complaint places the case back into court two days following Tuesday's election. Judge Schottky said he was not concerned with the political aspect of the case.

"I can't see any authority for compelling the city council to expel a councilman or city attorney," Judge Schottky declared.

Belli said he would like to submit authorities on the matter of expelling councilmen.

Judge Schottky then interposed, "Nothing you have cited so far, in the court's opinion, has come within a mile of it."

After Judge Schottky stated he did not believe the proper procedure had been used to remove Wilson and Speers, Belli asked him to suggest how they could be removed.

"I am not advising either party," Judge Schottky replied.

Belli declared that "the old writ of quo warranto is not available to us."

Belli contended that the demurrers themselves were admission of guilt on the part of Wilson and Speers and said that "the law certainly won't leave a situation like that without a remedy."

The defense's main arguments were that (1) facts stated in the complaints did not constitute a violation and (2) if they did, they could not be proved in a writ of mandate.

Harzfeld, who spent almost two hours in presenting his arguments, charged the filing of the complaints by Peterson was a political move, pointing out that although Peterson was an accountant for the city of San Mateo in 1941, 1942 and 1943 and had access to the records, he waited until two weeks before election before filing the complaints.

"This is clearly one of those old-fashioned election suits," Harzfeld charged.

Peterson pointed out in his complaint that Councilmen Edward A. Reilly and Creed Haberlin had demanded the ouster of Wilson and that the majority members refused to expel him.

Speers, Reilly and Haberlin are up for re-election next Tuesday. They are opposed by four candidates — Marcel Biscay, James Inglis, Charles Berryessa and Roy Jaeger.

Son in Pacific Area Calls Parents Here

The voice of their only son, who was recently wounded on Iwo Jima, was brought into the B. D. Ralston's living room last weekend from somewhere in the Pacific via telephone. Marine PFC Leonard

PFC LEONARD RALSTON

Ralston spoke to his parents, who live in Woodside, at 9:30 p.m., Friday, from somewhere in the Pacific Theater.

The leatherneck received leg wounds during the initial landings on Iwo but assured his parents that he was getting along fine. He sounded cheerful and very natural, his mother said today. But every time the Ralstons asked their son questions, the operator cut in with, "I'm sorry but you cannot ask that."

Previous to his enlistment in the marines in January, 1943, Ralston was a student at the Bellarmine Preparatory School. The 19-year-old marine was active in athletics both at Bellarmine and Sequoia High School. Ralston is a member of Headquarters Co. of the 26th Marine Division which stormed Iwo on D-Day.

Dibble Patient Wins Top Honor

First patient at Dibble General Hospital to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor is T/5 Robert Dale Maxwell of Creswell, Ore., who in September hurled himself on an enemy grenade, saving the lives of four American soldiers.

Maxwell, who last week left Dibble for Camp Carson, Colo., to enter the ASF Convalescent Hospital, was serving with the famed Third Division of the Seventh Army at Besancon, France.

Using a blanket and his unprotected body to absorb full force of the explosion, Maxwell, in saving the lives of his comrades, was permanently maimed.

His sight was impaired by the explosion, and he was brought to Dibble, one of two army blind centers in the states, where surgeons helped restore full vision.

Besides the Medal of Honor, Maxwell wears the Silver Star, Combat Infantryman's Badge, European Theater of Operations ribbon with five battle stars, Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, and belongs to an outfit that holds a flock of battle citations. He is 24 years old.

Victor Kandle Dies in Action In Europe

First Lt. Victor L. Kandle, whose attack upon a German command post last year resulted in the capture of 52 prisoners and death of eight Jerries, has been killed in action, the War Department announced yesterday.

Lieutenant Kandle, the husband of the former Marigene F. Dodge of 1512 Whipple Ave., Redwood City, was serving with the famed Third Division of the Seventh Army.

He enlisted in the army on Sept. 5, 1940, and took his basic training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., with the 15th Infantry Regiment. Commissioned at Ft. Benning, Ga., Aug. 28, 1943, the officer was later sent to Italy where, reassigned to the 15th Infantry, he helped complete the final push to Rome.

His platoon was among the first to hit the beach in Southern France on D-Day.

He is survived by his widow and 2-year-old son, Terry, who reside with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dodge.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Kandle of Puyallup, Wash.

It was during the latter part of 1944 that Lieutenant Kandle led his platoon in an assault upon the enemy CP and two strong points after the Yanks had been told by the collaborationists that no Germans were in the vicinity.

During the day's engagements, his men drove the Germans from the area, established a new command post for themselves, and cleared the way for additional Yank soldiers.

Jones, who resides at 733 Ramona St., Palo Alto, was accused of striking Perry Graham, Negro, 542 Emerson St., Palo Alto, with a 32-inch piece of 2 by 4 plank, on Feb. 25 while Graham was sitting in his automobile at Willow St. and El Camino Real here. Graham suffered a severe gash over his left eye. Jones was arrested by Redwood City police.

Scouts Begin Paper Drive In Redwood City, April 8

More than 500 Scouts and Cubs of Redwood City and Woodside will launch their annual waste paper drive Sunday, Apr. 8, in conjunction with a nation-wide effort to collect 150,000 tons of paper to be converted for war use, it was announced today.

Local residents are urged to gather together old newspapers, books, magazines, cardboard boxes and cartons, wrapping paper, brown bags and wastebasket scraps to aid the Scouts in their collection. Bundles should be tied securely with twine and string.

The campaign is being sponsored by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and an Eisenhower-Boy Scout Waste Paper Campaign Medal will be given to each Cub or Boy Scout who collects 1000 pounds of paper during the drive. The medal bears a likeness of the general with the inscription: "War Service, 1945."

Local scoutmasters held a meeting this week with Chet E. Wilson, assistant San Mateo Council executive, to map plans for the Redwood City collection. Fifteen Redwood City and Woodside troops and packs will participate in the drive.

Scout leaders who met in the Scout office, Red Cross Bldg., Redwood City, Monday, included F. J. Seitz of Troop 105; H. S. Stout, Troop 120; Hamilton Day, Troop 143; E. George, Troop 160; Walter Shugert, Pack 16; Milt Gooding, Pack 22; Jerry Littus, Pack 43 and M. McCormick, Pack 59.

Each will bear a printed citation by General Eisenhower.

Local troops and packs participating in the drive are: Packs 104, 105, 110, 120, 143, 149, 159 of Woodside and 160; Packs 15, 16, 22, 43, 59, 49 of Woodside and Sea Scout Ship 145.

J-M Smokestack
By Jim Asbestos

I'll bet the company makes 2 or 3 bucks for every buck they pay workers!
Listen- the company paid 2 million in dividends last year- and 39 million in wages

What's the Divvy?

Many people think that companies pay stockholders more than they pay job holders.

Well let's take a look at some figures. Let's bring this right down to Johns-Manville, which operates one of its 16 plants in this neighborhood.

Last year, J-M paid out to its stockholders 2 million dollars in dividends. That sounds like a lot of money. But this was split among more than 8,100 people who had risked their savings to build J-M and keep it going.

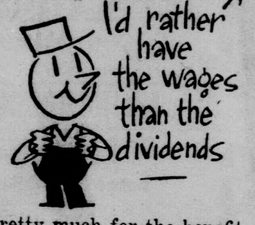
They got 2 2/5 cents out of each dollar of the company's income.

How About J-M Workers?

In comparison, the 13,000 J-M jobholders in the United States and Canada got 39 million dollars.

Also, J-M paid government 9 million dollars in taxes—part of these taxes going to support this community. This is several times as much as was paid to stockholders.

Three million dollars of earnings—or 3 cents out of each dollar of the company's income—was left in the business. This was to guard against future bad years and to help insure business and jobs, after the war. Stockholders didn't get any of it in dividends.



Thus, total earnings of Johns-Manville were 5 2/5 cents out of each dollar of income.

So-o-o-o, a company like J-M, after all, runs pretty much for the benefit of its jobholders, the communities in which it operates and the government—and for its customers, of course.

Frank Cary War Victim

First Lt. Frank L. Cary of Redwood City was killed in action on Luzon on Mar. 6, the War Department informed his wife, Sylveen, who resides at 53 Finger Ave., yesterday. The 28-year-old infantryman had been overseas two years.

Lieutenant Cary, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Cary of Chico, was employed by the General Paint Co. in San Mateo for two years prior to entering the army in 1941. He was stationed in New Guinea before moving to Luzon where he encountered his first enemy action.

Files Counter Plea For Child Custody

Mrs. Barbara Kent, Menlo Park nurse, has filed a counter petition in juvenile court here to a petition for writ of habeas corpus filed by Mrs. Edith Bollinger of San Francisco, who is seeking custody of her small child, charging that the child had been abandoned.

Mrs. Bollinger filed the petition for the writ last week in superior court here, claiming that Mrs. Kent gained custody of her daughter, Heather Ann, now 2 years and 9 months old, and kept custody of the child until 2½ months ago when the child was placed in the care of Mrs. A. C. Goode of the Laurels Nursery School, Menlo Park. Mrs. Bollinger charged that Mrs. Kent refused to surrender custody of the child to her.

Superior Court Judge A. R. Cotton Tuesday continued the hearing on the petition for writ of habeas corpus until next Monday at 1:30 p.m. The hearing on the abandonment charge will be heard at the same time.

Meantime, Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt today granted a final judgment of divorce to Mrs. Kent from Hamilton Kent. Mrs. Kent had charged cruelty. An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted Mar. 8, 1944.

GETS JAIL TERM

Charles Cleal of South Palo Alto was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail here by Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe for disturbing the peace. Cleal had been charged with causing a disturbance at the Anchor Club, 1575 Bayshore Hwy., East Palo Alto.

Ousted Howard Counsel Seek Fees

Still another matter in the extensive litigation in the $2,000,000 Fannie Mae Herrscher estate case will be aired before Judge Andrew R. Schottky of Mariposa County in Superior Court Department 1 here next Tuesday when the executors' ousted counsel will seek an additional $11,473.

The San Francisco law firm of Morrison, Hohfeld, Foerster, Shuman & Clark, and Orville R. Vaughn, former counsel for Lindsay and Robert Howard, yesterday afternoon filed a petition here for allowance of $11,473 for ordinary probate proceedings, in addition to the claims of $10,000 for ordinary services and $15,000 for extraordinary services the attorneys already have asked.

Judge Schottky set next Tuesday at 10 a.m. for the hearing. Several other matters in the case will be heard at the same time.

The word turnpike originated from the early American custom of blocking toll roads with pikes or poles—when the toll was paid, the pikes were turned aside.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

Redwood City is not the only place troubled with rats. Many other cities have the same problem which is peculiar to war and its lack of manpower and facilities for abatement. Was reading yesterday how Louisville, Ky., solved the problem. The city's sanitary engineer concocted a poison which is harmless to humans, dogs and cats, and had this spread along the streets. It was said to have been most effective. The dose allegedly kills by thirsting its victims to death. Which is truly rough on rats.

★ ★ ★

We don't mean to question the story, but for some reason it reminds us of a favorite fishing story of our Uncle Joe. The latter could always catch a string of fish in the old furnace pond at Gadsden when no one else could. When asked the secret of his luck, Uncle Joe would reply: "I always take along a box of Bruton's snuff. If the varmints don't bite regular like, I sprinkle some of that stuff over the water; then when they come up to sneeze I knock 'em in the head."

★ ★ ★

Getting back to Redwood City and its rodent problem, we recall a city council meeting very early in the war when the question came up of relaxing ordinances against raising poultry and rabbits in the city limits. A number of Commuters, including Secretary McKeegan, ex-President Cruse, John Nordstrand, Harry Harrison and Tom Giannini, vigorously opposed the measure and one of their arguments was that it would cause the city to be overrun with rats, which would thrive on the feed and baby chicks and rabbits. This seems to have been a well-founded argument.

★ ★ ★

We have some of the varmints around our house, and we have no chickens or rabbits. We hear them gnawing on the woodwork at night. Then we compute how much this joint cost us, and wonder how long it will be before they chew the place down. Such calculations are not conducive to sleep. Mrs. Caboose bought two traps, one a mouse trap and the other a big spring rat trap that would break a horse's leg if he stepped in it. But the varmints which chew on our mahogany woodwork have college educations. The traps are baited with the highest-point cheese on the market, but the rodents won't go near it. We have been tempted several times to take it back and eat it ourselves.

★ ★ ★

Nelle Miramontes, our able city collector, told Bill Curran every time she reads this column she is reminded of the Carr family and their ten children. She said they nick-named the tenth baby "Caboose" because it was the "last Carr."

★ ★ ★

Which reminds us of our own family. We, too, had 10 children, eight boys and two girls. Numbers eight and nine were twin boys. Our late mother, herself a saint, insisted on double-barreled saints' names for the twin. She wanted to call one Aloysius Augustine and the other Alphonsus Sylvester. We were second in line and old enough to protest these names. Mother was adamant, so we appealed to dad: "You can't let these boys go through life handicapped by such monikers." Dad shrugged his shoulders and said: "Well, it serves the little rascals right for being so late getting here. We're all out of easy common names." We finally talked mother into a compromise on Edward Alphonsus and Charles Aloysius. Just before the christening, the latter was changed to Charles Frederick. The last and tenth child, incidentally, was named James Laurence, in compliment to our distinguished "Uncle Jim."

★ ★ ★

Then there is the Commuter who calls his wife "booby trap" because he never knows when she is going to blow-up.

★ ★ ★

Joe ("Rajah") McClellan, our favorite philosopher, says these are the seven greatest human mistakes:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is achieved by crushing others;
2. Worrying about things that cannot be changed or corrected;
3. Insisting a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot do it;
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order to accomplish the important;
5. Neglecting development and refinement by not acquiring the habit of reading:
6. Attempting to compel others to live and believe as we do;
7. Failure to establish the habit of saving money.

That last we must see! How anybody on a salary can outsmart the "deducts" and save a dollar these days must be a magician of sorts. Of course the 10 per cent deducted at the source for war bonds is a saving, and a very handsome one. And we feel sorry for the fellow who isn't cushioning his future by doing that! Rajah Mac said he copied the foregoing from "Sunshine Magazine."

Pres. Stan Perkins just phoned to say that the Commuters Club would join with the Kiwanis, Exchange, Lions, Junior Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in the "old clothes drive" to get under way here next month. It is another war relief campaign and deserving of everybody's earnest cooperation and support. Stan will appoint his Commuters committee later.

U.S. Court Ruling Brings Refunds To R.C. Commuters

Commuters — get those Market Street Railway coupons out, because they're worth one cent apiece to you.

The Supreme Court upheld Monday a California Railroad Commission order directing the Market Street Railway Co. of San Francisco to reduce its fares to six cents, a cut of one cent.

Justice Jackson delivered the court's unanimous opinion.

After the Supreme Court agreed to review the case, the company's properties were purchased by the City and County of San Francisco and are now part of the San Francisco Municipal Rwy. The municipal system is not subject to the authority of the California Railroad Commission. The lines are being operated under a uniform seven-cent fare.

The commission's order was stayed pending decision of the appeal. The stay order required the company to file with the California supreme court a $100,000 bond and to deposit additional amounts necessary to assure refund of the one-cent difference in event the commission order ultimately was upheld. The amounts deposited totaled $603,319 last Jan. 5. The company gave coupons to its patrons entitling them to refunds if the order was affirmed.

Market Street Railway contended the order was invalid because it was issued "without notice and opportunity for a hearing" and said it was not supported by substantial evidence.

Primarily because of lend lease, U. S. exports for the first nine months of 1943 amounted to $9,197,000,000, compared with $5,575,000,000 for the corresponding period a year ago.

Major J. E. Primeau Wins Promotion

Promotion of Lt. Col. Joseph E. Primeau from the rank of major was announced today by the War Department.

The Redwood City officer, who served as a captain in the Canadian army during the last World War, has been stationed in Washington, D. C., since August, 1944. He entered the service in May, 1942, and was stationed at Santa Ana until his transfer last year.

A charter member of the Commuter's Club, Lieutenant Colonel Primeau was purchasing agent for the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco before entering the service.

He and his wife made their home at 149 Elwood St. in Redwood City.

Joining the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in June, 1910, he enlisted in the Canadian army in August, 1914, later receiving five military decorations. Upon his discharge as a captain, he returned to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police until 1928 when he came to California and joined the staff of the St. Francis Hotel.

Pvt. Silva Dies

Pvt. Bud N. Silva, husband of Mrs. Ida King Silva of Box 601, Belmont, has been killed in action in the European Theater of Operations, according to a War Department announcement.

Judge Sets Trial Date In Manslaughter Case

Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt Tuesday set May 10 as the date for trial of Lawrence F. Moody, 28-year-old San Francisco beer truck driver who is charged with manslaughter and felony drunk driving.

The charges were placed against Moody following a crash on Bayshore Hwy. at the entrance to the Consolidated Chemical Co. plant Jan. 16 in which three persons were killed and two others were injured.

PLAN AHEAD FOR 194X LIVING...

Plan now for functional arrangement, complete equipment and adequate wiring

Be really positive, insistent and "fussy" about the functional arrangement and convenience details of your next kitchen. Clip ideas you like out of magazines and paste them in your new home scrapbook. Save kitchen layout plans and articles. Careful planning now will result in a 194X kitchen that will be convenient to work in.

Functional planning ties the kitchen together for easier work by handy arrangement of shelves and cupboards in relation to your range, sink, and refrigerator or food storage space. Food can be prepared and cooked with a minimum of tiresome trotting about.

Your 194X kitchen will be well lighted by a ceiling fixture—probably a smart new fluorescent lamp, together with local lighting at range, sink, under kitchen cabinets and other work centers. Adequate wiring, provided by several circuits, will take care of the many plug-in outlets for all the kitchen appliances you now have or the new ones you will buy after the war.

Now is the time to plan ahead for 194X—the new era of the joy of living in your present or future home.
